REMARKS

Aug. 21st 1921
Party of 102 Angoras and Mazamas climbed S. M.

Mazamas and Angoras Join In Big Climb
Printed in the Morning Astorian Aug 23, 1921
Many Take Trip Up Saddle Mountain. Portlanders Amazed At Beauty of Peak. All Have Good Time.

By Enoch E. Mathison
It was an unusual caravan of motley pleasure seekers that sojourned to Saddle Mountain last Sunday. Mazamas, Angoras, Elks, Moose, deer and other inhabitants of the wilds of the modern civilization and those who hold dear the sweet-scented redolence of the primeval and who love to roam and rusticate in nature's own bedecked garden.

Under the auspices of the Angora Club of Astoria, who had breakfasted the Portland Mazamas at the O-W docks early in the morning, more than one hundred left at 6 a. m. on five trucks to L. & C. R. R. station ten miles up Lewis and Clark river. There the party were placed on a train of three flat cars and on the train rambled amid the songs of the woods and the happy travelers, the whispering pines, the rippling brooks and the rushing rivers, with now and then the shrill whistle of the engine punctuating it as if to announce the happy news to the denizens of the woods that the long, lost brother, the man, the prodigal son, was returning back in answer to the eternal call of the man's first home, the wilds, to feast, to forget, to forgive, and to enjoy.

Fire Warden Host
At the base of the mountain lunch was served and at ten thirty, two long lines of climbers began stretching towards the heavens. The "oldtimers" taking the old trail and the "new comers" the new trail, all reached the saddle by noon. The words of wonder that were expressed on the mountain top of the scenery that spread before the eyes was gratifying to those who had been there before and to the hospitable fire warden, who treated the climbers as his own guests, with coffee, sandwiches and lemonade, and with a smile all the time. Two hours were spent on the top, wondering and dreaming, marveling in astonishment at the works of nature. Spread before us was a panorama of lakes, rivers, inlets, bays, rolling waters of the Pacific; mountains and timbered and tilled valleys dotted with villages, Willapa Bay, Columbia river, Nehalem bay could be clearly seen. Mt. Rainier pushed itself up in the distance as if holding up the clouds that had spread above it; down in the depths of the land we could see giant fir hit the ground in dust in response to the woodmen's axe; yonder part of a monster of the forest was being snaked in, hurrying, as it were, wildly through the woods to the railway.

Dr. E. C. Johnson of the Angoras gave a toast to the Mazamas and E. H. Dowling of the Mazamas responded, both speaking from the lookout platform and with inspiration of the surrounding occasion.

Eldest and Youngest

The oldest climber being Herman Planting, age 74, and the youngest being Merwyn Planting, age 9, both made the trip in fine shape. Guard of the camp at the base was Mrs. C. P. Zigler, who had kept the fire burning under the coffee pot for the returning ones. The return was made successfully and happily as the climb, arriving at the base at 3, and the train at 5 and Astoria at 7. The Portlanders left on the evening train, singing praise for the Clatsop county scenery and the hospitality of the Astorians. Many pictures were taken along the trip and on top by the Angora's official photographer, Mr. C. M. Love. Next joint Mazama-Angora outing will be had on Labor day at Neacarnie Mt.

Mazama climbers were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dowling, Emil Laitz, H. V. Newlin, Joe C. Ronneau, Herbert Allstadt, E. Kenney, W. P. Forman, Marth E. Nilsson, W. C. Jettson, B. W. Newall, A. R. Hine, E. SEE CLATSOP COUNTY FIRST.

It is to be deplored that so few Astorians know the beautiful spots in their own county," writes a correspondent who is a member of the Angora Club. "Why go to California or to the great national parks before having visited the the glorious playgrounds at home?" she asks.

Why indeed? Because probably distant fields always look the greener and because, possibly, we are prone to ignore the acres of diamonds in our backyard in our search for the fabulous wealth at the end of the rainbow. Another quite tenable reason lies in the fact that California and the great national parks have been systematically exploited for years until they have acquired a reputation which other natural scenic spots could also acquire were they advertised to the world.

It is organizations such as the Angora Club that lead the way to a fuller appreciation of the wonder spots at home. Their pioneering work in exploring for the hidden beauties of our mountains, the pilgrimages they organize and conduct to these shrines of nature, the efforts they expend to make them better known and more accessible will do much toward impressing upon the people of Clatsop county that it is not necessary to take long journeys to be enchanted by the grandeur of the outdoors.

Our correspondent writes of a trip fifteen of the Angoras took last Sunday to Box Canyon, a scenic retreat of which she doubts whether many Astorians have ever heard, much less visited. "After leaving the Lewis & Clark railway just above the canyon," she recounts, "the party scrambled down the steep side and from that moment for six consecutive hours the merry adventurers enjoyed a continuous thrill. Ample opportunity was afforded to prove that they were truly Angoras. Innumerable steep rocks had to be climbed and nine times the party waded the stream."

Her description of the visual beauties of this garden spot laid out as only the Great Landscape Architect can is timely. We believe with her that not one out of ten residents of this county ever heard of Box Canyon, and this is only one of a thousand natural wonders within less than a day's journey of our fireside.

"See America First" has been the slogan of a decade but for us it is too broad. "See Clatsop County First" should be our slogan and, when we have all seen it in its variable moods and shapes, we may then be qualified to tell the world of what we have to charm the restive seeker of new sensations.

MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF THE ANGORA CLUB

held at the club house at Shively Park, October 7th, 1921.

The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Angora Mannix, president Angora Stringham being absent. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Angora John Berry reported on the building, stating that it would cost approximately $131.00 to repair same. Angora Hustwick reported that the Park Commission would take care of $31.00. The secretary was instructed to notify the Park Board of the acceptance of the replica of the Forest of Astoria as a club house, and that this acceptance be sent to the Park Board without "further delay."

Angora Berry gave a report on the Box Canyon trip, and was to itemize the expenditures and turn the same over to the Secretary. Motion was duly passed that Angora McManama be given a vote of thanks for his kind services rendered to the members on the Box Canyon trip, and that the secretary send a letter of thanks to him.

The by-law committee reported "progress". A motion was passed that a house committee of three be appointed, and thereupon the President appointed Charles Hustwick as chairman, with authority to select two as his assistants.

At this point Chief Guide Berry gave a talk on future trips, and particularly on the "Wick-i-up" trip to be held on Sunday, the 16th day of October, 1921, leaving 6 o'clock A. M. from the Commercial Street headquarters. The following members placed their verbal application to make the trip:- Angoras Misses Byrum, Erickson, Johansen, Hustwick, Wilson sisters, Malinen, Amundsen, Wuori, Gimre, Mrs. Kanary, Mr. Cornet, Mr. and Mrs. McManama, Mr. & Mrs. Schapiro, Mr. & Mrs. Mathison, Mr. and Mrs. Mannix, Charles Erickson, John Berry.

Under new business Angoras Mannix and Berry talked on the joint Mazama and Angora New Year's program. The members of the club present unanimously approved the joint outing.

Mrs. Schapiro read the history on the Box Canyon trip which was received enthusiastically, and greatly enjoyed by the club. The history was approved and ordered filed with the historian of the club, and a vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Schapiro for her kind and generous service in writing the history. Mrs. Kanary gave a report of an outlawed hike to the Fish Hatchery, declaring, among other things, that the fish went wild upon seeing Angoras. It was shown later, however, that the reason they went wild was that the fish were in "still" water too long. Mrs. Planting gave a report on an outlawed trip, as well as Mr. Mathison.

Thereafter, still under the good of the order, the following members sang songs:- Mrs. Schapiro, and a grand "uproar" by Angora Mannix. The club moved that they accept the songs as club songs, and the secretary instructed to write the music.

It was moved and passed that a Halloween party be held at the club rooms, Friday, the 28th day of October, 1921, with proper refreshments. It was moved that the President appoint a committee to make arrangements for the party. ## MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF THE ANGORA CLUB held at the club house, Astoria, Oregon, October 14th, 1921.

The meeting was duly called to order by President Angora Stringham. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Thereupon the President called for reports of the committees. Whereupon Angora Mannix reported progress on the by-law committee, and stated that there was prospect of presenting a tentative form of by-laws at the next meeting. (? should be placed after "prospects".). Angora John Berry reported for the Building Committee, stating that the club house had been finished, and requested that he be discharged and his bondsmen exonerated. Thereupon a motion was duly carried accepting his discharge with thanks. (But his bondsmen will be held until it is found, upon proper investigation, whether or not the plaster will stick to the wall.)

It was duly moved and passed that Angora McManaman and Angora Berry be appointed to take care of lighting the club room. Thereupon the President appointed Angoras McManaman and Berry on said committee.

Angora Hustwick of the House Committee moves that Wednesday evening, the 19th day of October, 1921, be chosen as a clean-up and preparation evening, placing the club rooms in ship-shape for the Hallowe'en party.

The Hallowe'en Committee reported, through Chairman Shapiro, good progress, and requested that all members be masked and should come to the party unidentified even unto their wives, husbands, sweethearts, lovers, and others.

box of Angora Byrum, from the bigness of her heart, offered to donate a choice apples, which was promptly accepted with thanks and joyous anticipation.

Angora Erickson, reported for the committee on decorations, declaring that said committee was ship-shape, and saying many things with flowers.

A general discussion took place, in which all of the Angoras took part, relative to the doughnuts, as to whether home or Dixie doughnuts would do. Upon proper and due enlightenment on this subject it was unanimously accepted that Angora Kanary act as the Doughnut Committee to see that the doughnuts will come in proper proportion, taking into consideration the clemency of the weather, the number of Angoras, and the "spirit" of the occasion.

Angora Ostrom, who had up to this time played an imitation jazz, dreaming about swinging the pretty maskers at the Hallowe'en party around the club room floor, offered to donate dustless powder for the floor. This offer was accepted with deep appreciation by the members present, and those present for the members absent. Thereupon Angora Berry felt in his bosom beat an impulse of generosity and offered to donate punch with the proper kick, believing that the powder on the floor and the punch within would produce the Angoric glide for the occasion.

A discussion general was had relative to the color of the emblem to be adopted by the club, together with a design for same. In fact, the discussion was so general and animated, that while some were getting purple others were getting blue as their color. During this discussion the minutes do not show whether there was a motion proposed and passed, but thereafter President appointed Mrs. Shapiro as chairman of what is known as the "Purple Committee", with authority to select two assistants as members of her committee, with directions to prepare a design and color scheme for the club emblem, and report to the club.

Under the good of the order Chief Guide Berry gave a talk on the Wick-i-up Lake trip. Angora Mannix proposed a thanks to Angora Hildabrand for the piano given to the use of the club, to which Angora Hildabrand responded in Angoric style.

Angora C. M. Johnson, famous for his road construction, talked on the advantage of having a committee take up with the County Court budget committee the matter of appropriating money for the Saddle Mt. road. Thereupon a motion was duly made and passed that a committee of three be appointed to attend the County budget meeting and to request as much money as possible for the purpose of surveying a trail to Saddle Mt., and improving the road thereto; that this committee also act as publicity committee in endeavoring to get the public interested in the construction of the trail and the improvement of the trail to Saddle Mt., and also requested that the said committee call on the members of the club to assist them generally in such publicity work and bring about influence upon the County Court to appropriate as much money for such purpose as is possible. Thereupon the President appointed Angora C. M. Johnson chairman, with authority to select two of the members of the club as his assistants on said committee.

Still under the good of the order, Angora Mannix on behalf of the club, thanked Mark Siddall for his generous donation of a goat for the club, and upon the conclusion of his talk the members present gave a general approval by a generous applause. Angora Siddal in response to the thanks stated that he had belonged to many club, lodges, and organizations, and had a good deal to do with all of them, but that this club was the only one that ever got his "goat."

At this time Angora Ostrom, still thinking of the goat which is now placed on the mantel, the goat having given its approval of the things that went about, thought the goat should have a name. Whereupon a motion was made and approved by all of the members present that the President appoint Angora Ostrom as Chairman of the "Goat Committee", whereupon he was appointed, with directions to select an appropriate name for the goat presented to the club by Mark Siddall.

Angora Mannix, first having been duly requested and appointed by the Historian of the Pipe-line trip, Angora Berry, read the history of said trip. On reading this history the Angoras present were considerably moved with laughter and general hilarity, and even Angora Ostrom who is usually very conservative and more or less stonefaced, was moved to impromptu stunts. As the reading went on, at the very corner it was noticed that Chief Guide Berry stood up and called a halt to the reading of said history, stating that there was more in the history than what he had written thereof, but having been ruled out of order the objection was of no avail and the reading went on to its completion, and was adopted as part of the records of the Historian of the club.

A letter from "Us Girls" Aldrid was read.

At this time Angora Ostrom was seen moving uneasy about the bench, and thereafter standing up requested that the club adjourn and that we have a little "jazz" music. Thereupon the club adjourned consciously or unconsciously to act upon the motion of Angora Ostrom.

Also that the Mazama's had a school session as part of the entertainment, and played and danced until 4 A. M., Bull Run Mountain time. Going up Bull Run River he and his companion saw a salmon jump, but the minutes do not show whether the salmon came down or not. (This may be a defect in the report of the minutes.) He also spoke about a wonderful musician there, but the minutes are indelinite as to the kind of a musician. A moving picture man was present, and a picture of Joe shooting a bear was taken. The proprietor of the tavern invited the Angoras to make a trip there.

The lighting committee reported progress.

At this point Angora Mathison showed up with minutes of last meeting.

The by-law committee reported through Chairman Angora Mannix, who read the preamble. Upon reading the preamble considerable discussion was had as to its adoption. Angora Byrum objected to its length, and moved that only the last three lines should be adopted as that was the number of lines constituting the preamble of the constitution of the United States. Angora Mrs. Mathison inquired as to the number of times the preamble is to be read. To this Angora Mannix answered that in his opinion it would not be read once in 25 years, unless it turned out to be a classic document, and which he did not believe it was, but believed that the club was taking chances of that. Angora Mr. Shapiro voiced his sentiment that the preamble set forth the principles of the club, while they were long it was well that those principles be set forth in writing that all may know the same; and in as much as it would not be read once in 25 years, excepting under the conditions stated by Angora Mannix, he was willing to take the changes of adopting the preamble as read, to which Angora Byrum also conceded and voted for its adoption. Hence the preamble was adopted as read. Thereupon Angora Mannix read provisions of the constitution. The name of the club was adopted as the Angora Club of Astoria, Ore. The next three articles of the constitution were adopted as amended. The balance of the constitution was continued until the next meeting of the club.

THE END OF THE TRAIL.

THE pilgrimage of the Angoras Sunday to the site of old Fort Clatsop, where the Lewis and Clark expedition spent the winter of 1805-06, suggests the need of a road to that historic spot and a monument or some other marker commemorative of the intrepid white men who first penetrated this far western territory.

Fort Clatsop is truly the end of the trail and it is regrettable that all these years have passed without government, state, county or some organization doing something to preserve the location as ground hallowed by historic significance.

With the route followed by Lewis and Clark with hardship and difficulty now made easy for the traveler, the camping ground of the famous expedition would become a magnetic attraction for the tourists were it accessible.

No section of the Pacific coast is richer in history and tradition than is Clatsop county and yet we have done almost nothing to preserve this asset and capitalize it.

At this point Chief Guide Berry who had been silent and listening to the progress of the different committees, could not stand it longer, stated that the next trip would be to the fish hatchery, and asked those who desired to go to raise their hands -- six hands went up.

The Chair called for the reading of the histories of different trips. Miss Snell was requested to read the ancient history. She reported the history still at the printing office but would be available for reading purposes soon. Miss Lagus then read the history of the Young's River trip which was enthusiastically received and favorably commented, and voted filed with the Historian of the club.

Under new business Angora Shapiro asked that a committee be appointed to look after the printing of the magazine known as the "Angoric Faith", which motion was passed, and the Chair appointed Shapiro as chairman.

Sufficient time had consumed at this point for Mr. Berry to again make a report, and he then gave an interesting as well as instructive reading on the Trails Club of Portland, stating that we may expect an invitation from that club to enjoy an outing with them to Watcum Lake, Lost Lake, and many other places, sometime near Decoration Day. Mr. Hand, a member of the Trail's Club, was at the meeting, and was introduced by Angora Charles Erickson. Mr. Hand explained the organization and purpose of the Trails Club.

MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF THE ANGORA CLUB

held at the club lodge ~~March~~ 17, 1922. President Angora Mannix presiding. The minutes of the previous meetings, February 10th and March 3rd, 1922, were read and approved.

Thereupon the President called for the report of the committees. Chairman J. Alexander Ostrom of the Goat Committee made an extended report on the goat, giving the members an origin of the species as well as the origin of the various parts and functions of the goat. This report was received extensively, and a vote of confidence was given the chairman of that committee, as well as thanks for his proficient and interesting report. It was apparent to the club members that Ostrom had as a true scientist to find out the truth, lived with goat, slept with the goat, drank with the goat, and had been a goat, wherefore his illustrious report.

Chief Guide Berry of the Sleeping Bag Committee gave a report, promising that by next meeting he would have some of the bags with him, and that the members will have a chance to experiment with the bags at that meeting.

Charles Erickson, of the Hook and Eye Committee, reported still on the advance, and informed the club that a clasp could be expected soon.

Chairman Shapiro of the Alaska Committee reported having heard from Dr. Cook, giving the elevation of the top of Mt. McKinley as 56,332 feet high, and that considerable snow was on the mountain at this time, but which is in the process of moving downward, and that if waited a little longer we would be able to meet the top snow at the top of the mountain. He also reported an interview with General Pinneo, who had informed our chairman that a ship could be had provided we could furnish sufficient number of longshoremen to take the ship to Mt. McKinley, and would give the club further and more interesting facts about the trip upon his return from his next visit to Washington, D. C.

Chairman Charles Johnson and his assistant Aina, of the Strong Back Committee, asked that they be excused with thanks. On motion duly made they were excused, but the thanks were inadvertently omitted. Thereupon the Chair appointed J. Alexander Ostrom and Noble Angora Emil Granlund on the Strong Back Committee to take the place of the two previously excused, and were instructed to make a spring cleaning of the lodge room.

Without proper or due notice entered Chief Guide Berry in the ring, and without the formal salutation to the President, and charged with the Nicoli Mountain Dew, flashed his eye about the ring, and he saw many whom he did not see on the Mountain of Nicoli the Sunday before as per schedule. He was charged with the irresistible spirit of a conqueror, and as he spoke all trembled but one, and that was Angora Shapiro, who spoke with a challenge of the towering and immovable spirit of Mt. McKinley. Berry charged the club that he had expected much but received little, and Shapiro answered that little is better than nothing. Whereupon the President intervened and got between the irresistible and immovable spirit and brought Shapiro down from the heights of Mt. McKinley, and Berry from the dizzy clouds of Mt. Nicoli, to the elevation of Angoric spirit. Whereupon Chief Guide Berry gathered up his nine plunks and stepped outside the ring with blossomed held at the club lodge February 10th, 1922. President Angora Mannix presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Thereupon the president call for the report of the committees.

A vote was had as to the kind of letterhead to be adopted by the club, and the one with the landscape was finally adopted.

During the midst of the meeting a formal charge was lodged against Angora Erickson, accusing him of being a "he" vampire. Berry acted as Judge, Angora Mannix as prosecutor, and Ostrom as attorney for defendant. Evidence was produced showing that Erickson had induced to meet one Ethel at a point close to a telegraph pole on or about 31st and Franklin Streets. This induction proved to be an influence attributed to vampire generally. He having failed to show up on the appointed time and place, as usual with such characters, and caused the young lady to stay at the telegraph pole and wait there for an hour and forty-five minutes, during which time Charlie had entertained Ina Malinen at the Swift apartments. Evidence was further produced at the hearing that there was no reason why Charlie could not keep the appointment, excepting that he was after another scout. Upon hearing the evidence the court having instructed the jury, which brought in a verdict of not guilty, having been influenced by Charlie's beautiful flowery phrases, which was another evidence of how Charlie can vamp. However, the jury wrote at the foot of the verdict, causing him to not let it happen again. If it should happen again he shall be treated as an ordinary mortal, and probably deportation proceedings will be instituted.

Upon proper motion the meeting adjourned at ten o'clock P. M.

A letter was read from the Trails Club of Portland thanking us for the time we showed them on the trip to Saddle Mountain on June 5th. We were also presented with an enlarged photograph of the group making the hike on the top of the mountain, also an album containing several pictures <sup>taken</sup> during the hike. A Motion was made, seconded and carried instructing the Secretary to write a letter of thanks to the Trails Club for these pictures and the album.

This motion was declared out of order for the reason that all of the business of the club was to be transacted by the Board of Directors and that to designate every other meeting for the purpose of transacting business would in effect amend the constitution and by-laws which could be done only in the manner therein provided.

A motion was made, seconded and carried that at the meeting of July 14 we hold a picnic lunch on the lawn outside the club house.
